TO MEMBERS OF THE BAR.

THE Subscribers beg leave to call the attention of legal gentlemen throughout the United States, to their American editions of Reports in the English Common Law and Ecclesiastical Courts.

With a view of removing extravagance of cost, and the necessity of purchasing useless matter, these publications have been undertaken, and have been conducted on the most economical plan; inserting in full, only those cases which are applicable to this country, and retaining of the others only the names and marginal notes.

There are at present in progress of publication in England, two sets of Reports, both in King's Bench and Common Pleas, containing for the most part the same cases; when, however, a case may be found in either of these sets that is not contained in the other, it will be inserted by the American editors; whereby this publication will possess a greater value than either of the rival series of English Reports entire.

The page of the republication is made so large, as to contain as much matter as two pages of the original; and the elisions considered, one volume contains rather more than two; so that four dollars will purchase as much as would otherwise cost thirty.

P. H. NICKLIN & T. JOHNSON.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL REPORTS

Are prepared for the Press by EDWARD D. INGRAHAM, Esq. of the Philadelphia Bar.

Four volumes of this work are published, furnishing a series of decisions in the Ecclesiastical Courts of England and Scotland, from 1790 to 1829, and contain as follows:—

Vol. 1. Phillimore's Ecclesiastical Reports,	3 vols.
2. Addams's " "	3 vols.

4. Haggard's Ecclesiastical Reports,	Vol. 2.
Haggard's Consistorial Reports,	2 vols.

Speaking of the above publication, the Editor of the United States Law Intelligencer and Review, says:—

"It appears from the volume before us, as well as from what we have just stated, that a large portion of the cases contained in the English Ecclesiastical Reports, may be read with very great advantage by the lawyers of our own country. We do not know, indeed, that we have gone through any volume of English adjudged cases, which is more abundant in useful illustration of the principles of the law administered here, than that to which we invite attention."

New York, 29th October, 1831.

DEAR SIR:—I beg leave to introduce myself to you, with my thanks for the very great satisfaction I have received from the perusal of the 1st volume of your Indiana Reports. The decisions show as accurate, and enlightened, and liberal a sense of English Law and Equity, as those of any of the Courts of Westminster Hall; and it is a very interesting fact, that at Indianapolis on the fertile banks of the White River, (which a few years ago was an unclaimed wilderness) a community should now exist under such a firm, strict, and learned administration of justice.

I have perused all your valuable notes with unceasing interest, and in the next edition of my Commentaries, I shall cite your decisions in every case in which they are applicable, and endeavour to correct the errors into which I may have fallen.

I could not well resist the pleasure of thus writing to you, and I hope you will not deem it an improper intrusion.

I am with great respect and esteem, dear Sir, your's truly,

(Signed) JAMES KENT.

The Hon. ISAAC BLACKFORD, A Judge of the Sup. Court, Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Law concerning Notice, express and implied, is very amply discussed by Mr. Coventry in his Notes to Powel on Mortgages, and the American editor, Mr. Rand, has, with a thorough accuracy, collected all the cases and decisions in this country appertaining to the subject. The immense body of English learning with which Mr. Coventry has enriched every part of the original work of Powel, is not only uncommon, but very extraordinary. There never were two editors who have been more searching and complete, and gigantic in their labours.

Conati imponere pelio ossam—
